Document classification or document categorization is a problem in library science, information science and computer science. The task is to assign a document to one or more classes or categories. This may be done "manually" (or "intellectually") or algorithmically. The intellectual classification of documents has mostly been the province of library science, while the algorithmic classification ...

LFW Results by Category Results in red indicate methods accepted but not yet published (e.g. accepted to an upcoming conference). Results in green indicate commercial recognition systems whose algorithms have not been published and peer-reviewed. We emphasize that researchers should not be compelled to compare against either of these types of results.

*For all the reports listed above, "clear" will be returned if any other applicant last name value is specified. Credit report requires that an identity report is included in the check for the test data to work.. Note that all the usual applicant attribute requirements apply, when you create a check inside the sandbox, even if they are just dummy values.
